

Photographs by Mioji Hanaoka

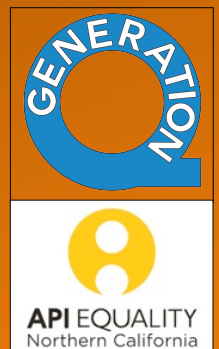

(Left to Right):
Toby Wu,
Monna Wong,
Sammie Wills,
and Mary Luong.

Participants of the Dragon Fruit Project transcribing over 20 interviews of LGBTQ API activists who lived from the 60s through the 90s.

GENERATION Q

A Project of API Equality-Northern California

Inspired by the Dragon Fruit Project, which collected oral histories of older LGBTQ activists, Generation Q aims to nurture a collective identity for LGBTQ API people by collecting stories of young LGBTQ API activists today. The project will organize various activities and events to bridge different generations of LGBTQ API people to learn from the past and present and better understand how our lived experiences impact social justice movements now.

Contact: Tracy Nguyen, tracy@apiequalitync.org, (415) 274-6760, x317