

Mia Nakano,
Director

Photograph by Cody T. Williams

THE VISIBILITY PROJECT

A Project of Asian Americans for Civil Rights & Equality

The Visibility Project is a national portrait and oral history collection dedicated to the Queer Asian American Women, Trans, and Gender non-conforming communities. As a collective community we break gender, sexual, and cultural barriers through powerful imagery and storytelling. A selection of the interviews will be transcribed, translated, and available online in May 2014.

Contact: Mia Nakano, Director, mia@visibilityproject.org